A LITTLE LIGHT ON NORFOLK, VIRGINIA

In 1900 Norfolk had about 47,000 people of whom possibly 25,000 were whites; today it has nearly twice that number with 60,000 whites and is the metropolitan centre for a tidewater section that holds more than one-third of a million people—no staggering number when placed in comparison with the great metropolitan cities of the north, but be it remembered in this respect as in some others the greatest city of the State and the third city in all the south exceeded only by New Orleans and Louisville.

A Place to Live: That city offers the best inducements to its people and to others when it can give alike a comfortable home and a good market for labor and for wares. It is not enough to offer a man one of these and omit the other. There are innumerable cities which can make their bid on either claim but Norfolk offers both.

Death Rate: It is a healthful town with a death rate lower than any other city in the state can boast and as low as any in the south, sea coast or mountain—a death rate constantly diminishing, 18.9, in 1908, 9.6 per thousand in 1915, and with a record of contagious diseases cut in half within five years.

Balmy Climate: It is a place of equably clement weather. About 60° is the average for the year, with a mean above 41 for the coldest month and below 79 for the hottest. No wind can reach the city until it has passed over water, cooling it in the summer time and warming it in the winter.

Rails and Steamers: Second only to New York City Norfolk stands in the list of the great ports handling commerce. Nearly 50,000,000 tons were handled. The water borne tonnage for 1915 was valued at $2,042,335,814.00; these amazing values were carried in more than 9,000 vessels, many of which were ships having no definite routes but always making Norfolk at least for coal.

Eight Trunk Lines: Eight great trunk lines tapping the richest sections of the middle west, the far west, the south and south west, bring freight to Norfolk and get their return tonnage here.

Over Streams and Oceans: Palatial steamers sail from Norfolk for Boston, Providence, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Savannah.

Hundreds of miles of inland waterways along the Chesapeake, the rivers of Virginia, the sounds and bays and rivers of North Carolina are reached by boats with definite schedules.

London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Norway, Rotterdam and Amsterdam are linked with Norfolk.

During the days of peace the Hamburg-American line made regular calls.

Barbadoes and the Amazon river exchange their wares with Norfolk.

1917 Norfolk and Portsmouth City Directory

Development: During the thirteen years from 1890 to 1903, the taxable values of Norfolk increased from $19,000,000.00 to $30,000,000.00, and during the thirteen years from 1903 to 1916 the values more than tripled.

Norfolk Spirit: It was just about 1903 when Norfolk's greatest asset, its modern spirit, its abiding faith in itself, its belief of its destiny, became manifest; and its city officials, realizing what lay in store, began building far in advance of immediate needs, looking toward the time when a fourth of a million or more people would live within the city limits.

Prepared for Future: So Norfolk is possibly the most over-paved city of the United States; if it has not that distinction today, it surely had a few years ago. Miles upon miles of asphalt streets, smooth and wide run through sections scarcely dotted with houses.

Hundreds upon hundreds of residences line smooth avenues which were laid before there was a house to demand the improvements. So it has been with the Norfolk sewerage system and its water mains which traverse every district.

A metropolis here! Surely there is no power within the reach of man that can prevent, no power that can divert, postpone or minimize.

NEUROLOGY

The Evils of the Eye Strain Conquered

Nervous energy or vitality operates the human machine just as steam or electricity operates the mechanical machine; any excessive demand upon this vital energy or disturbance of its regular flow is certain to show as a functional derangement of some of the organs. We point to the fact that the human eye consumes ten per cent of all the power generated in the brain, that is the eyes are entitled to that much by Nature's assignment but when they are defective they will involuntarily get the upper hand of the rest of the nervous system and use up more nerve energy than they are entitled to. sometimes as much as seventy-five per cent of all that is generated in their effort to overcome their defects and maintain vision. This constitutes eye-strain. With these facts in view it is easy to see that if the eyes consume an amount of the body's supply of nerve force in excess to their natural share some other organ must suffer because the eyes have thus become a leak on the system and have so exhausted the supply of vitality that no organ can perform its functions perfectly, purely from lack of the necessary power to operate it. Then some doctors will find symptoms of deranged functions and treat the symptoms. We proceed to find the cause and remove it and the symptoms will disappear of themselves. There is nothing mysterious about this. No theory is worthy of confidence until it has been practically demonstrated. More than fifteen thousand successful cases, hundreds of which had tried other methods as practiced by the most eminent specialists, is about the best demonstration of the superior merits of Neurology that could be given.

Consultation of a general nature is always free.

Nobody approaches what we do for the money.

We are always busy, so to avoid waiting, call phone "Norfolk 2599," and make an appointment.

THE LEDGER-DISPATCH

INCREASES ITS LEAD

In Advertising and Circulation Year by Year

The following interesting figures showing the volume of advertising carried in 1916, by the Norfolk papers prove conclusively the higher value placed on THE LEDGER-DISPATCH by the shrewd advertisers who use its columns month after month and year after year, many of them to the exclusion of all other papers.

The Ledger=Dispatch in 6 days a week printed over 100% more advertising in 1916 than the second paper in Norfolk, in 6 days, not including Sunday, to be exact 267,630 inches, and 73,778 inches more than the second paper in its combined Daily and Sunday issues.

LENOXThe Ghent of Ocean View

Lenox is recognized as one of Norfolk's high class suburbs, has modern improvements, only 10 minutes walk from Ocean View, the highest laying land between Norfolk and Ocean View, is highly restricted as to building, no home can be built on less than 50 foot frontage. Lenox has already 28 modern homes, is located on two car lines, the Bay Shore and Norfolk and Ocean View Ry. The Ocean View Boulevard goes through center of property. Investing in Lenox for homes brings good results.

WINONANewest High Class Suburb

Has all modern improvements, is located on Lafayette River, has southern exposure, surrounded by Lafayette City Park and Lafayette Residence Park, has all high restrictions, no house can be built on inside lots for less than $3,500.00, water front, $5,000.00. The 1st of May, 1914, we had 13 houses, on January 1st, 1917, we had 50 houses. It pays anyone to see Winona before investing or building a home.
